

IIAST Welcomes Its First International Faculty.

It is with great pride that we welcome Dr. Julius Romiluyi Orimoloye, an eminent professor from the University of Ibadan, Nigeria, who has joined IIAST, Integral University as an Associate Professor of Soil Science.

Dr. Orimoloye brings with him a rich academic and research background, having earned his B.Sc. in Agriculture (Soil Science), M.Sc. in Agronomy (Soil Survey and Classification), and Ph.D. in Pedology and Land Use Planning from the prestigious University of Ibadan, Nigeria. He has served at the Rubber Research Institute of Nigeria in various research capacities and later as a faculty member at the University of Ibadan, where he was promoted to the position of Reader (Associate Professor). With over two decades of teaching and research experience in Soil Science, Dr. Orimoloye has contributed significantly to pedology, land evaluation, crop suitability studies, and sustainable agricultural practices.

His numerous publications in reputed journals and his international affiliations with professional societies highlight his commitment to advancing agricultural sciences. His extensive body of work, published in reputed international journals, stands as a testament to his academic excellence.
