ABOUT MYSELF

With a Master's degree in Architecture and over four years of experience in academia and professional architectural practice, I am confident in my ability to contribute meaningfully to your team.

My academic journey, culminating in a Master of Architecture from Dr. A.P.J Abdul Kalam Technical University, has been enriched by a strong research focus on thermal comfort and sustainable design strategies, as evidenced by my two journal publications in the International Journal of Science & Research.

Currently, I serve as an Assistant Professor at Integral University, Lucknow, where I teach courses such as Architectural Design, Building Construction & Materials-I, Architectural Drawing. During my tenure at Poornima University, apart from teaching, I have held key academic administrative roles, including Department Research Coordinator and Examination Coordinator, as well as having actively contributed to the organization of international conferences.

My industry experience as a Junior Architect at Fresco Architects and an intern at Venkat Pillai Design Studio has equipped me with a practical understanding of diverse project typologies—ranging from residential and commercial buildings to institutional and hospitality design.

With proficiency in software such as AutoCAD, SketchUp, and Adobe Photoshop, along with my experience in academic research and curriculum design.
