About FDP

Faculty Development Program (FDP) would be an effort to generate enthusiasm amongst the faculty members to procure sponsored projects from various government and non-government agencies, in the areas of their expertise. The program has been designed in such a way that it covers end to end requirements of the faculty in identifying suitable projects, applying for the grant and executing the same after the project is approved. It would also help in developing skills of faculty members in writing professional project report after completion of the assignment. The FDP will also bridge the gap between the academic and real world by capturing the development of the Industry, Business and the society we are living in. The payoffs are in the form of more motivated and enlightened faculty members, who will apply for more and more such projects in future. It would be an excellent opportunity for faculty members to learn from an accomplished and Senior faculty from AMU who has hands on done dozens of sponsored projects successfully.

Objectives

- To develop an understanding of the sponsored projects, how to identify the right kind of projects and writing a successful project proposal.
- To understand the need and importance of getting projects as a tool of excellence in academics.
- Help the participants with the basics of executing a successful project.
- To develop the faculty members' skills in writing the project proposal and the final report.

He summarised the efforts and plans of the Department and University, on whole, for the cause of education par excellence for all on the campus and society, as whole..

Prof. Asiya started her session with a brief highlights on the importance of report and thesis writing. The vocabulary, language and concept plays very important role. This should be well calibrated and drafted. The essence of your report should be well expressed in the abstract. She took the student thru the whole process of report writing, starting from the subject, structure, titles, sub titles, ethics, various standards, formats. One of the major topics of Prof. Asiya was the evaluation of such reports by the evaluators, as what is being sought and examined by evaluators. This gave students, the first hand knowledge, as how to refine their work. She approached and explained the topics very professionally and guided the students with her wisdom, thru the whole session.

The report and thesis writing was explained in micro and medium with single agenda, as how to deliver the experience best in word and numbers, which can play a major role in future building, once the conclusions are implemented.

Prof Asiya highlighted the importance of the funding required for good research projects. This was a very major part of her knowledge of the day. She tried her best to cover the resource and funding aspect, to very depth of the topic and explained the approach and avenues, one should take to initiate, execute and conclude the research, with enough funding from proper and professional sources. The consequences, in all scenarios, were well detailed, as she has vast experience in the field of research and education. She supported her topic with live examples and took some case studies too.

“Tribhovandas Bhimji Zaveri Limited ” (TBZ) were one of the sponsor of the 2 Day Workshop , under their initiative for education and nation building.

The program turned to be a very successful one under the flagship of Dean and Head (DCBM) that can be easily seen in the warm response from audiences and the number of registrations done.
