Advanced Faculty Training On Sustainable Development Goals

India has had a significant impact on the development of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). As a result, the SDGs reflect the country's national development goals. As a result, even before the SDGs were completely solidified, India was essentially committed to reaching them. As one of the nations that has agreed to participate in the Voluntary National Reviews (VNRs) at the 2017 High-Level Political Forum (HLPF), India values the emphasis on 'eradicating poverty and boosting prosperity in a changing world.'

Integral Institute of Agricultural Technology and Sciences (IIAST), organised a 5 Days virtual Faculty development programme on “Advanced Faculty Training On Sustainable Development Goals” from 20th November to 24th November 2020. This Faculty Development Program (FDP) was designed to hunt Sustainable Development Goals that are the blueprint to achieve a better and more sustainable future for all. Speakers from prestigious institutes and universities address the global challenges we face, including poverty, inequality, climate change, environmental degradation, peace and justice.
