Primary SDGs Aligned with the Event:

SDG 3: Good Health and Well-being: This is the primary goal for the programme. By promoting early ear screening and pediatric care, the event contributes to Target 3.8 (Universal Health Coverage) and ensures that children are protected from preventable diseases that lead to permanent disability.

SDG 4: Quality Education: The 2026 theme, "From Communities to Classrooms," directly supports this goal. Hearing care is essential for inclusive education (Target 4.5). Ensuring children can hear clearly allows them to participate in learning, preventing school dropouts and cognitive delays.

SDG 10: Reduced Inequalities: By advocating for "Hearing Care for All," the programme works toward reducing the social and economic gaps faced by people with disabilities. It promotes the inclusion of children with hearing impairments in mainstream society, ensuring no child is left behind due to their sensory needs.

SDG 17: Partnerships for the Goals: The collaboration between the Faculty of Nursing and the Faculty of Medical Sciences at Integral University exemplifies this goal. It demonstrates how multi-disciplinary partnerships strengthen the capacity of healthcare systems to address complex public health challenges.

Conclusion:

The Guest Lecture organized by the Integral Institute of Nursing Sciences & Research in collaboration with the Department of ENT successfully marked World Hearing Day 2026. By focusing on the theme "From Communities to Classrooms," the event transcended traditional clinical boundaries, emphasizing that hearing health is a fundamental right that begins in the community and flourishes in the classroom. The insights shared by Dr. Ranveer Singh provided the nursing and medical students with a clear roadmap for early identification and intervention, particularly for children. The programme reinforced that auditory health is a cornerstone of a child's educational success and social integration. Ultimately, the event achieved its goal of fostering a culture of proactive care, ensuring that the call for "HEARING CARE FOR ALL!" is translated into actionable healthcare practices within the Integral University ecosystem and beyond.
