At the outset Prof. Syed Aqeel Ahmad, Director HRDC, Integral University, Lucknow welcomed all the esteemed guests & participants. He emphasized that the NEP-2020 will help in realizing the vision of Integral University.

Dr. Furqan Qamar addressed the august assembly with excellent clarity and indepth knowledge. On the basis of his par excellence and experience, he emphasised that higher education in India needs to be facilitated by the policy makers in terms of quality and excellence. He said that to improve the higher education system we need to focus on three things that includes seeking funds, increase in faculty count and freedom to execute what universities are made for in terms of imparting quality and excellence in higher education. He also mentioned that in order to formulate the vision of NEP 2020 the universities must need to build a multi-dimension education system to provide meaningful skillset among the learners.

Prof. G.C Tripathi highlighted the importance of a holistic and integrated education system. He conveyed the primary, secondary and higher education systems complement each other in many ways, and hence there is a need to transform the institutional infrastructure and education system in terms of dissipating quality education among all. He mentioned that education does not only reside in minds but also in hearts.

Prof. Javed Musarrat, Vice Chancellor, Integral University, Lucknow expressed his meaningful views depicting towards the adoption of policy. He conveyed that every individual has right to education and as a part of national building there is a need to transform the education policy in terms of equity, economy and affordability. He also highlighted that if we implement this policy in full spirit, we will certainly capitalize the development of rational thinking and the level of vocational education at all the levels as global citizens.

Prof. Syed Waseem Akhtar, Founder, and Chancellor shared his views on the implementation of the policy in institutions. He mentioned that he welcomed the policy and raised his concern to relook and reframe the guidelines issued by the government in terms to keep their common syllabus as per the requirement. He conveyed his opinion as a humble request to the deputy Chief Minister for transforming the guidelines to keep the common syllabus requirements from 30:70 to 70:30.
